AIBI

Dear Friend,

As a former participant to one of the AIBI Conferences (Louvain-la-Neuve, 1985 - Jerusalem, 1988 - Tübingen, 1991 - Amsterdam, 1994 - Aix-en-Provence, 1997 - Stellenbosch, 2000), you have been considered as a "member at large" of this International Association.

We would like, therefore, to ask for your co-operation during a few minutes by answering the following questions:

1. The next AIBI Conference will be organised by the Catholic University of Leuven (K.U. Leuven, Belgium). The meeting will take place at Leuven on 4-5-6 August 2003, following on the Colloquium Biblicum Lovaniense LII (29-31 July 2003).

Would you be interested:

- to participate in AIBI-7: YES NO
- to contribute to AIBI-7: YES NO

Cost of the 7th AIBI Conference will be around € 300, - (full boarding); €270, - (for AIBI paying members).

If you intend to contribute, what would be the tentative title of your proposed contribution? Please take account of the fact that the general theme of the Conference will be "e-Bible Criticism" (critical usage of computers in Biblical Studies, or how critical research on the Bible can be helped by the use of computers or electronic networks)?

- Title of contribution: .....

- Comments

2. Do you know other scholars who could be interested in participating and/or contributing to this Conference? If so, please, give their name and e-mail:

3. The next General Assembly of AIBI will take place on 5 August 2003 in Leuven and will discuss the future of AIBI. Some members of the current Board of AIBI are ending their term of administrator on 31 December 2002. Would you agree to have their mandate confirmed up to the next General Assembly in August 2003? YES or NO

4. We prefer you to answer the present inquiry on-line. May we request you to send us in any case your current e-mail address, since from now on all AIBI mail will be electronically forwarded. Please complete your full address (professional or private):
